"Our mission is to promote economic and community development for our members. Resulting in a properous business environment and a higher quality of life."

- The Randolph Metrocom Chamber of Commerce incorporates businesses within 10 suburban communities and several unincorporated section of northeast San Antonio. This metrocom is bound together by similar economic purposes and potential for growth. Located roughly in a 70-square-mile triangle on the I-35 Austin-San Antonio Corridor and including parts of Bexar, Comal and Guadalupe counties, making us a prime target for high impact industrial development.
- Since its establishment in 1930, Randolph's evolution as a primary Air Force training facility has had dramatic impact on population and business in the Metrocom. Randolph can be credited as a major force in the founding of some surrounding communities. While some cities existed as rural communities to San Antonio, others were created as population and service centers in support of Randolph. Metrocom cities today are poised for a new emergence of economic activity. Already the area details an enviable quality of life, excellent housing, nationally top rated education systems and a large labor pool.

• The Randolph Metrocom is unique in its commitment simultaneously to a laid back lifestyle and an aggressive business climate. It is both a quality place to live and a productive place to work. It's humming, but there still are quiet places and quiet times. It's a special place in a region and a state already setting precedents at the forefront of progress.

The City of Converse has one of the fastest growth rates of any city in Texas. Its population increased 254 percent from 1970 to 1980, and the current population is estimated in the 10,500 range - pending new United States Census figures. Converse expects to be the largest suburban city in the Randolph Metrocom by the year 2010 with a projected population of 20,424.

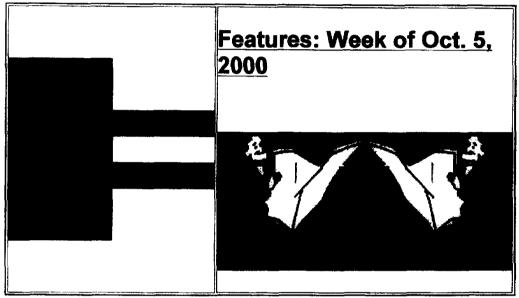

The city is located near F.M. 1604, the San Antonio area's outer loop, halfway between I.H. 10 and I.H. 35. Other major thoroughfares include F.M. 78, F.M. 1516, F.M. 1976, Toepperwein Road and Kitty Hawk Drive. Federally-funded VIA bus routes serve the city's residents. Residents and businesses have direct municipal bus service to downtown San Antonio and its shopping malls, the area international airport and other key destinations.

Converse is the home of the Judson Rockets, fivetime state champion high school football players in Division 5A. It is a homerule city that provides all basic services and excellent recreational facilities, and claims one of the lowest crime rates in the San Antonio metropolitan area. Converse continues to grow, with numerous single-family subdivisions under construction throughout the city, and new shopping and business opportunities located near Judson High School, which lies in the heart of the city at the intersection of F.M. 78 and F.M. 1516. Converse Business Park is currently expanding for new industrial sites.

Bus route to serve south Converse By Connie Hejl

Herald Staff Writer

CONVERSE - VIA bus route 21 is extending to serve the southern part of Converse on a trial basis beginning Nov. 6.

Tracy Manning, manager of service development and analysis for VIA, said bus line 639 will not be routed through the Copperfield and Autumn Run subdivisions, in response to residents' concerns. The new addition to the bus route will service South Converse two times a day, once in the morning and again in the afternoon.

"We are not sure of the exact times right now," Manning said.
The extension runs up Schaefer Road toward Loop 1604, turns on Thornton Lane, turns around at Lower Seguin Road and Loop 1604 and heads back to FM 1516.

The trial run will only be temporary so VIA can decide if enough riders are using the service to merit permanent bus stops.
"Usually when we lengthen a route, we give it a six-month trial run,"

Manning said. "If we extend the route and nobody rides, we put the route back to where it was."

Converse may start sending strays to Live Oak animal facility

By Connie Hejl Herald Staff Writer

CONVERSE - Sending strays to a Live Oak shelter rather than housing them in a controversial city-run animal facility could take place in the near future, officials said this week.

The proposal was floated by Mayor Craig Martin during a history and budget lesson about Converse's animal facility at a workshop held before the start of the regular City Council meeting Oct. 3. "Live Oak was very positive and I want to pursue the matter further," Martin said. "They are going to have this matter on their next council agenda. They seem willing to cooperate for a single goal." During the session, Converse Councilman Carlton Degenhardt gave a presentation on the history of the facility and what the city's options were, both in terms of remodeling the current structure or building a new facility.

According to Degenhardt, it would take about $15,000 to improve the animal shelter by installing air conditioning and insulating the building.

Although the building meets state standards, critics have charged it is either too hot or too cold and does not provide a humane environment for strays.

Constructing a new facility would cost $65,000 for the building, $30,000 for land and maintenance costs and an estimated $50,000 annually in operating expenses, Degenhardt said.

However, the councilman placed the cost of taking animals to Live Oak at around $10,900 per year. Live Oak is planning to build a new facility soon.

Martin said another benefit includes sharing the cost of an animal control officer with Live Oak, especially since Converse needs to hire one more. Such an agreement would mean the officers could cover each other's territories on the weekends, officials said. Live Oak has two officers and Converse could retain one officer. Also, each officer would only have to work every three weekends. City Manager Sam Hughes said he was working with Live Oak City Manager Joseph Painter.

"He (Painter) is working on the numbers as to how much it will cost, liabilities and who will be on call," Hughes said. "It is a favorable plan, but may take us up to 30 days or so to work out the fine print." Gloria Weers, a resident who has been protesting the current facility, spoke in favor of the idea.

"I know the Live Oak facility tries very hard to adopt out animals," she said.

The council will wait to take any further action while negotiations are pending.

When the council convened in regular session, discussion was raised on a proposal to rezone a 13.5-acre tract of land next to Autumn Run from B-3 commercial to R-6 single family.

Autumn Run residents spoke against the idea and the council voted against the rezoning measure.

Resident Mark Jones said, "We don't need any more houses until the traffic issue at (Loop) 1604 is addressed. It is already too dangerous. It takes me 10 to 15 minutes to pull out onto 1604. The problem will only get worse if more houses are added."

Other residents did not favor the rezoning because they said the developer is planning to put smaller homes on the lots and feel it would negatively affect their property values.

Councilman Michael Meurin pointed out the property across Loop 1604 from Autumn Run was zoned commercial because Converse needs more businesses.

Other council members felt the city needs to increase business development to increase sales tax and economic development. Councilwoman Cindee Dupaquier abstained during the vote because she is building a home in Autumn Run.

CONVERSE POLICE DEPARTMENT

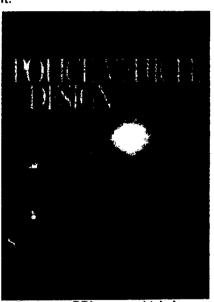

407 South Seguin
Phone: (non-emergency) 658-0898/658-2322

The Converse Police Department (CPD) is organized into detective and patrol departments, consisting of twenty-three officers, two civilians, and one K-9 unit. This number boasts a community relations officer who interacts closely with the community and serves as a highly-visible liaison between the citizens and the police. Our police department provides twenty-four hour emergency and non-emergency services. Patrol officers work in eight-hour shifts and are supervised by a Sergeant. through a mutually beneficial contract, all 911 calls are routed from the Live Oak Dispatch Center directly to the Converse Police Department.

Last year the average Converse family paid about seven dollars per month for their Police Department. In return the police put about 200,000 miles on their fleet and respond to 23,139 personal contacts with the public.

The Converse traffic-safety program has been aggressive but also friendly. Patrol officers averaged over 1,000 stops per month in an attempt to promote public safety. However, at least 30% of these stops resulted in only a warning. Such a ratio between warnings and citations provides a good balance between law and order and community goodwill.

Converse PD's new vehicle logo was recently featured in Law & Order magazine

An important part of the CPD program is the Converse Citizen's Police Academy Alumni Association(CCPAAA). From the very beginning, the association's primary objective was to assist the Police Department and to develop a better understanding between the police and the citizens. Some Association special events include annual picnics, with a special CPD vs. Alumni softball game and occasional fund-raising activities. The community has always been very generous in their support.

The Converse Police Department offers a ten-week training and familiarization course every summer. This course is a prerequisite to joining the alumni. If you are interested in being a part of this very worthwhile organization, please contact the Converse Police Department at 658-2322.
